Bosserman Visits Elementary School

October 25, 1971
On Wednesday, Oct. 20, Mr. Bosserman came to the Elementary School and showed a movie on forest fires. It was very interesting.

The movie showed how forest fires were stopped by using big plows and a truck that moved the brush and sticks and then another kind of truck made something like ditches. An airplane let out water to slow down the fire. If there was a river near the fire they would put pipes from the river to the fire. The movie name is May Day.

October 25, 1971
On October 20, 1971, Mr. Bosserman came to the Elementary School to show a film because Mr. Hayes who is a science teacher asked him to and he said yes.

He showed many different things such as the many different fire machines and ways to put out the fires. There are very many machines used in putting out a fire.

There are tools that are used by hand. There are ground fires which move very fast and of course the forest fire and there are mud fires also.

Schools Offer Archery Class

Grayling schools now offer to all Junior and Senior High students a new archery program. The program began October 14 with 30 students participating.

In an effort to establish archery in schools, Bear Archery has co-ordinated initial efforts with the school enrichment class personnel to offer archery classes for Junior shooters. Archery equipment has been made available with shooting facilities at the Grayling Archery Club.

The classes are being held on Thursdays at 4:00 p.m. in the club indoor range. Interested students should direct their inquiries to Howard Taylor or Bruce Smith at the High School for further details.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith will act as instructors for the program with assistance from John P. Radebaugh, manager of the Fred Bear Museum. Students attending the first class were off to a quick start with all of them shooting the bow after beginning instruction.

After two weeks all students will be shooting with a sight as in formal competition and begin preparing for actual scoring and competition during the following weeks.

The National Archery Association Junior Olympic Round will be shot with qualifying students winning awards as they progress.

In the spring, Bear Archery will send two teams of four members each to the Bear American in Cobo Hall, Detroit to represent the city of Grayling in Junior Olympic competition.

Students under Junior High age may participate during Saturday mornings in the Grayling Archery Club's own program established especially for the youngsters.

DIABETES ASSN. HOLDS MEETING

Monday evening, Oct. 25, the Crawford-Rosecommon Chapter of the Michigan Diabetes Association had its fall meeting. Dr. Charles Oppy spoke on Personal Hygiene. Once again our speaker was well received by a very interested group.

Those present indicated a strong interest in the topic of Insulin and Oral Drugs. This will be our program topic for January. A new meeting room will be found for the next meeting so those Diabetics who have difficulty climbing stairs will be able to attend.

Any person interested in Diabetics or in helping this local group is urged to contact Mrs. Donald Burkley, Grayling. Remember this Association is for Diabetics, so please attend and express yourself. We cannot provide the programs you want without you communicating your wishes to us.

DREAMS ARE THE DAWN OF TOMORROW

And like the first light of a new day they seem distant, unreal. Yet out of our dreams we often fashion tomorrow.

The dreams of the daylight hours are not in the subconscious. Rather they project our hopes on a screen of reality. They grow into goals and aims and ambitions.

Whether tomorrow will fulfill those dreams depends on certain values which must be acquired today. Ideals, standards, moral principles, religious faith—these inspire dreams worth dreaming, and help us to translate them to reality.

Never worry about your daughter's daydreaming. Be concerned about her opportunities for spiritual development. The Church shares that concern. It can help you do something constructive about it.

Youthful Builders

For every case of youthful, disorderly conduct that makes the headlines, there are probably 1,000 or 10,000 worthy youth activities that are never mentioned. For the sake of balance and perspective, a little more attention should be given to builders rather than burners.

The Pulaski News of Pulaski, Wisconsin, must have been inspired by this thought when it devoted a large part of a late issue to the work of Pulaski High School students in preparing the local high school for the 1971-72 school year. The "News" prominently displayed pictures showing students assembling new tables and assisting in carpeting, paneling, painting and waxing in preparation for the opening day. In one picture, an industrious student is painting a representation of the school's mascot on the high school's gym floor. The editor of the Pulaski News succeeded magnificently in portraying a normal side of American life — a side that predominates in most communities and provides a silent denial to the common cry that America is sick and falling apart.

Contradictions!

Amidst reports of a federal deficit in the neighborhood of $28 billion next year, portions of President Nixon's speech to Congress on meeting the challenges of peace are worth repeating. The President said, relative to government spending, "To spend more than we can afford or to tax less than we can afford is the sure route to prices higher than we can afford." He also said: "Regimentation and government coercion must never become a way of life in the United States. Price and wage stabilization, in whatever form it takes, must be only a way-station on the road to free markets and free collective bargaining in a new prosperity without war."

Deficits of the magnitude now predicted seem to indicate to a great many people that the country is following the route to "... prices higher than we can afford." They also indicate that regimentation and government coercion could, indeed, "become a way of life in the United States."

SACRAMENTO, CAL., JOURNAL: "A gray-haired old woman was preparing to enter a bus at 9th & L Streets; she was large and somewhat crippled. Her arms were loaded with packages. As the bus door opened, a man waiting behind her offered a helping hand. The old lady smiled but shook her head. 'I'd best manage alone,' she said. 'If I get help today ... I'll want it tomorrow.' My admiration for her grew, and suddenly I knew she had in one clear sentence summed up the welfare tragedy."

Lake Management Complicated, Gerrish Citizens Discover

By Willard E. Bosserman
County Extension Director

Citizens of Gerrish Township who have been attending the information meeting on lake management are discovering its complications.

The complications were brought to light at the October 20 meeting by Dr. Spencer Peterson. He outlined the many areas of study being conducted on Houghton Lake as factors involving water quality. Some of the activities being closely scrutinized in addition to sewage disposal are: Road drainage to the lake with its contribution of snow, automobile exhaust, salt, sediments and debris.

Quality and quantity of the marsh water entering the lake from the pike spawning areas will come under scrutiny. Peterson said the swimmer's itch program and the possibility that this program causes a significant build up of potentially toxic copper in sediments will be investigated.

Motor boats and snowmobile usage on the lake will be surveyed. The lake sediments and fish will be analyzed for fuel and oil residue, as well as for taint tests. "It has been shown from other work," Peterson said, "that tainting of the fish flesh occurs at a fuel-usage of eight gallons of outboard motor fuel per million gallons of lake water per season." "Also," he adds "between 10% and 35% of outboard fuels are discharged directly into the water as unburned wastes from outboard motors."

Throughout the two year study a limnological investigation of the lake is being conducted to establish present water quality which may be used as a yard stick to measure any future changes. Determining variations in seasonal water chemistry will be part of the study.

The study team will identify plant species and the amount of area each species covers.

Species and seasonal succession of plankton organisms are being monitored and related to water quality. Kinds and numbers of benthic (bottom dwelling) organisms and their possible relationship to the swimmer's itch program are being determined.

A comparison of fish growth rates with those of other lakes as well as past growth rates in Houghton Lake will be made in cooperation with the fisheries division.

This data plus the compiling of nutrient budgets for the lake will provide information necessary to make constructive and useful recommendation for the protection of water quality in Houghton Lake as well as other lakes in the area.

The Gerrish Township group is primarily interested in Higgins Lake. But, the Houghton Lake study will give them valuable information regarding the management of Higgins Lake as well.

Donald Dow, Region two parks supervisor reported on the size and future plans of the two state parks on the lake. "There are no plans for increasing the number of camp sites at either of the two parks," he said. Richard Nilitz, Waterways division of DNR, Mio, reported there was only one state owned access site on the lake. It needed improving, but no funds are available for this.

John MacGregor, DNR, Region two fish biologist reported on the economic impact of inland lakes fishery. He indicated lake trout had been planted in Higgins Lake.

Irwin Fox, Roscommon County Sanitarian discussed some health aspects of lake management. Frank Vining, Water Quality Control, Water Resources Commission, Cadillac, reported on guide lines for waterfront property owners. The guidelines will be discussed in next week's news.

EMTA Elects Millis L. Peet 1972 President

MIDLAND — More than 300 members of the East Michigan Tourist Association, meeting here Wednesday, elected Millis L. Peet, of Bay City as the organization's 42nd president to serve during 1972.

The association also went on record calling for the establishment of a National Park in East Michigan, favored a resolution in behalf of Daylight Savings Time for Michigan and favored early approval of the atomic power-generating plant at Midland. N. C. "Slim" Rumble, EMTA president, presided at the meetings.

Peet, 49, has served on the EMTA Board of Directors for 14 years. His firm is a three-generation member of the 61-year old tourist promotion organization. He is chairman of the executive committee of Peet Packing Company of Chesaning, Saginaw and Bay City.

Members participated in an afternoon workshop that featured a discussion of a business attitude survey on tourism potentials of 8 northeastern Michigan counties completed this summer by the N. E. Michigan Regional Planning and Development Commission; a detailed presentation of the state's new "Super-Spring" travel promotion campaign for 1972 and a discussion of the use of printed literature in vacation marketing.

The chambers of commerce of Midland, Saginaw and Bay City sponsored a reception prior to the evening banquet meeting.

Members honored outgoing president Rumble with a gift for his leadership and efforts in behalf of tourism in East Michigan.

James Hall, EMTA executive vice president, reported a reduced program during 1971 produced more efficiently than ever before in terms of requests for vacation - planning literature. The EMTA summer business survey revealed a 6.5% increase in tourism sales for East Michigan, well below the national average for the second year in a row.

New members elected to the Board of Directors included James Albertson, Consumers Power Company Manager, Midland; Walter Foss of Bay City, vice president of Peoples National Bank and Trust Company; Richard Keberle, restaurant owner from Houghton Lake; and James Orr, motel operator from West Branch.

Vice presidents elected included Mrs. Nina Buell of Lewiston, Harry H. Whiteley of Rogers City, Wilfred Doyle of East Lansing and Richard Schluckbier of Frankenmuth. Hughfred Giesel, of Bay City, was re-elected to his treasurer's post.

William. The mother was formerly Miss Matilda Ziebell.

EMTA Calls For National Park

Midland — The early establishment of a National Park in East Michigan headed the list of resolutions adopted by members of the East Michigan Tourist Association at their annual convention in Midland, Sept. 27.

EMTA also resolved to support daylight savings time for Michigan and expanded enforcement of anti-littering laws in the state.

In recognizing the need for increased regulations for natural resources use EMTA members resolved that such regulations should not threaten to destroy any specific outdoor recreation activity or legitimate tourism service enterprise. The resolution also stated that regulations should contain multiple-use controls on a fair play basis for all outdoor recreationists.

For example, rigid control of canoeing on Michigan rivers for the benefit of fishermen is an act of favoring a specific outdoor recreation activity and threatens a legitimate tourism service enterprise and an activity (canoeing) used by thousands of Michigan citizens and visitors to the state.

In other resolutions the members commended Norman C. Rumble, Editor of the Midland Daily News, for his service as 1971 EMTA president and the convention hosts at Midland's Valley Plaza area.

1972 Election Ballot Will Be Complicated

The way special interests are clamoring to put their favorite issues on the ballot for a statewide vote of the people it appears that the 1972 ballot will be a "bedsheet" affair, according to Senator John Toepp.

Normally, the election will be a big affair anyway because voters will be electing a President and United States Senator, among others. But in addition it appears that there will be several other important issues up for a vote. They include:

1. Double fast time. Although twice defeated by the Legislature and once by the people, the daylight savings time backers don't give up easily. They already have qualified the issue for the ballot.
2. Authorize a graduated income tax. The graduated income tax was turned down by the 1963 Constitutional Convention and soundly beaten by Michigan voters in 1968. But union leaders are determined to try to force the issue on the public again.
3. Property tax relief. This would ease property taxes for school purposes and provide other means of financing education.
4. Unicameral legislature. Although the Congress and 49 states retain the time-tested two-house legislature and only one small farm state — Nebraska — has the dangerous one-house legislature, there is a move to install the virtually untried unicameral legislature in Michigan.
5. Abortion reform. A bill to liberalize Michigan abortion laws already has passed the Senate but it is stalled in the House of Representatives under the leadership of Speaker William Ryan. Backers hope to take the referendum petition method of amending the constitution to get around inaction in the house.
6. Legalize lotteries. Backing for legalizing lotteries has gained strength in Michigan in recent years, primarily because it would be a means of increasing state income without increasing normal tax sources.
7. Constitutional limitation on the state income tax. Former State Senator Robert Huber and other conservatives would put a 2.6 per cent ceiling on personal income tax.
8. Reduce size of legislature. An alternative to the unicameral legislature.
9. Change legislative pay system. Small group would take away from the people their right to set pay of legislators and give it back to the legislators themselves.
10. Exempt homesteads from property tax. Has great appeal among home owners and those on limited incomes.

These are just a few of the issues Michigan voters may be called upon to face in 1972. Others are sure to make their way to the front before next year.

Arts Choral Program At Kirtland Nov. 7

Kirtland Community College is pleased to announce that the Northern Michigan University Arts Choral will present a program on campus this Sunday, November 7th, at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium. A cordial invitation to attend the program is extended to the public. A very nominal admission ($1) fee will be charged of adults... all students (school and college) are free.

Formed in 1965, the NMU Arts Choral first gained prominence in 1969 when they participated in the symposium on the Choral Style of Classic Viennese Music in Vienna. During that time they also concertized the major cities of Germany, Switzerland, and Austria. Under the direction of William Dehning, this select chamber choir of 18 singers has attained a high standard of musical excellence.

They have impressed audiences with their musicality, precision, and as one reviewer said, "a degree of showmanship which makes the program sparkle." Dedicated to the premise that "good music can sell," the Choral draws its repertoire from the vast wealth of choral chamber music which covers a period of 600 years from the time of the Renaissance to the present-day avantgarde. They apparently succeed in their quest, as they have been praised by both musicians and laymen for their ability to delight as well as educate the musical taste of their audiences.

The Choral's appearance at Kirtland is one stop on their tour of Community Colleges in Lower Michigan, sponsored by the cultural Affairs Department of Michigan State University's Continuing Education Service.

The Real Problem: Fulltime Mania

Much hue and cry emanates of late about how much money the legislature is spending—and how they're spending it—to remodel the state capitol and furnish individual legislator's quarters.

Such things as casual conversation with old friends or hometown acquaintances leading to contracts—awarding jobs and buying materials without competitive bids—$800 desks, $500 chairs, and $20 wallets—these and other remodeling sidelights have raised considerable questions about what's going on under the capitol dome.

The legislators respond that to do their job properly, they are only doing what's necessary and prudent, actually saving the taxpayers money because they cut red tape and get things done.

Those charged with overseeing the remodeling and refurbishing contend that someone has to do the job, and they're doing the best they can.

Discussion can go on and on, both ways, about the problems and procedures.

But the real problem with the legislature, in my view, is the mania of the members to spend more and more time on the job.

Most legislators consider the position a full-time job—more properly, perhaps, a double time job. They have to work year-around, they contend, so they need staff aides, and secretaries, and offices and everything that goes with a high-salaried, top-responsibility, combination of policy-making and administrative position.

That's where the basic mistake is made. Serving in the state legislature of Michigan should not be a full time occupation. It should not require year-around, day-in-day-out attention.

The lawmakers should come into the capitol every year—or every two years, perhaps—to write the state's budget, amend a few laws that aren't working well, adopt a few new laws of the need has been shown, and then go back home.

The whole process ought to take no more than 90 days or so a year, and the trappings of office could be reduced accordingly—including the pay.

The day-to-day operation of state government ought to be left up to the army of fulltime state employees—including the top elected and appointed officials—and not involve the members of the legislature.

But I fear things have gone long past the point where Michigan can return to a more direct, simpler, more logical method of legislating. The logical place to change the focus rests with the legislature itself; and it is obviously illogical to expect that a majority of those within the present system will agree to such basic changes.

This is one reason the drive toward a unicameral legislative system is gaining momentum at this time.

A one-house system would indeed be a basic change; hopefully the number of lawmakers would be reduced, and hopefully the new body could approach its responsibilities in a basic, simple manner.

My nominee for the diplomat of the year goes to the federal official in San Francisco who had to field a query about the President's wage-price freeze:

"My wife's birthday is coming up and she wants a present," wrote the questioner. "Under terms of the wage-price freeze, can it be more expensive than what I gave her last year?"

That's cause for pause, but Ralph Burns, regional OEP director, replied that the order does not deal with gifts, and added:

"You are therefore free to give her any gift you feel she deserves."

by PETER G. HAMMOND
Executive Director, National
Coordinating Council on Drug Education

The hardest thing about solving some problems is admitting that they exist. Once over the "honesty gap," it gets easier to talk about answers, solutions, formulas for action. This is particularly true when approaching drug abuse; we dragged through several tragic years in the United States without acknowledging drug abuse problems.

But now, many communities have taken the first step. They've taken a long, hard look at themselves and written candid notes on what they found: addiction in many American cities and towns, big and small; experimentation turning into habituation; escapism in pills, leaves, powders, liquids; Dad's too many martinis; Mom's pill parade; Junior's skin popping now and then, and then, and then again.

After the investigations and the studies, and after the admission of real trouble—if it exists—the next question is obvious: What do we do? What do I do? It's at this point that many communities have made a mistake. People have panicked, and in their panic have rushed out to establish anything, something, called a drug abuse program: lectures, panel discussions, classroom conferences, hot lines, drop-out centers, drop-in centers, storefronts, rehabilitation clinics, on and on and on. Some of these programs have been effective, but some have been a dismal waste of time and money.

What has been missing has been a careful analysis of community needs and community resources. Once such an analysis has been made, then a community can consider the alternatives to panic.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

We've been searching through floor plans trying to find the ideal house to build, but we're confused. Where do we begin?

Here's a suggestion. Take an imaginary walk through the house before you make up your mind.

Figure out where the room pathways will lead. Do you have to cut across the living room to get from the front door to the rest of the rooms?

Will the family have to trudge through the working area of your kitchen everytime they come in the backdoor?

Being able to judge a floor plan before the house is built can save disappointments later on. Forecasting family traffic patterns is one of the first ways to start judging.

Sizing up family activity areas is another. Will the noisy work area of the house interfere with living room relaxation? Will the sound of living room company keep the children from being able to sleep?

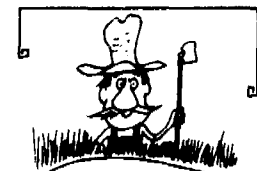

The relationship of one room to another deserves careful scrutiny too.

Will it be easy to carry food from the kitchen to the dining area? Or the patio? Or the porch?

How accessible are the bathrooms to the bedrooms?

If the plans look good that far, then it's worth taking a detailed look at each individual room.

'If It Fitz...' Archie Sits Strangely

by JIM FITZGERALD

You might be impressed to learn that my family discussed The Last Supper at the dinner table the other evening. Real religious, huh?

Not really. Save your awe. The main subject of our conversation was actually Archie Bunker's TV show, All in the Family. The Last Supper just kind of slipped in at the end, unexpectedly, between I Love Lucy and Elmer Fudd Jr.

Obviously the discussion was not as religious as it was intellectual. All in the Family is supposed to be more than just another situation comedy in the awful mold of Bachelor Father and I Led Three Sons, or whatever that lousy thing is. Archie Bunker is the friendly neighborhood bigot. He is continually knocking the Jews and the niggers and the spics and the polacks and the wops. Fred MacMurray would never do anything like that.

Archie is wrong, of course, but he's also pretty funny. And the show is supposed to contain some worthwhile "social commentary." The idea is that you, the viewer, see a lot of yourself in Archie. And when you see what a jerk Archie is, you solemnly resolve to go forth and be a better person.

Which is a noble concept. Although I wonder if Archie isn't maybe a hero to a lot of viewers, sort of a George Wallace in hard hat. Some people couldn't see bigotry in themselves if they looked in the mirror and saw Lester Maddox.

But I always did worry too much. Back to the important things.

I told my family the Bunker show is the same as every other situation comedy in one vital aspect. It lacks reality. The Bunker family crowd around the same side of the dinner table, just like Lucy's family, the Beverly Hillbillies and Mary, Tyler and Moore. This is artificial. If all four members of my family jammed together on the north side of the kitchen table, leaving the south side vacant, a passing stranger would think we were either nuts or perverts.

My family naturally urged their Wise Old Dad to reveal why the TV people arrange their seating so peculiarly.

"So they can all face the camera," I explained. "They all sat on one side of the table at The Last Supper," my son said. "What channel was that on?"

I ignored this Christian aside and pointed out another example of strange sitting on TV. When two men are in the front seat of a car, the passenger always sits smack up against the driver. Even if they both work for the FBI and drive Ford's widest idea, they still sit so cozy it's a miracle if their neighbors aren't talking.

"It's the only way they can both get their heads on a 21-inch screen at the same time," I exclaimed with modest pride at my perceptiveness.

It was at this fascinating point in the conversation that my family insisted on swinging the conversation away from show biz. They are jealous of my superior knowledge in this field.

My wife had recently made her modeling debut in an underground style show. Photos of the event were passed around the table and she said she hadn't realized what a deep dimple she had in her chin.

"It's handy for carrying nickles for the parking meter," I said.

"I carry them in my navel," she said. "Oh, that's where I carry 'em," I said. "But only during the 40 days before Easter."

Onward and Upward.

your week ahead

Forecast Period: November 8 - November 15

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Forget about the Joneses! Apparently, you will be much too concerned about what someone else has. Jealousy is a fact of life. But, don't let it throw you off your present course.

TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20 Your personality should get you through a tough spot this week. See to it, however, that you don't take unfair advantage of someone — because of your glib ways.

GEMINI May 21 - June 20 Many under your sign should receive good news from a distance. If you are the exception, then it's possible that a postponement might take place this week.

MOONCHILD June 21 - July 22 Whatever you do, don't put your confidence in a casual acquaintance who wants to share your problems. Your chart shows, deception by a pseudo-friend.

LEO July 23 - Aug. 22 Someone in authority is speaking in your behalf, behind the scene. Confidentially, see to it that you do not overestimate your ability this week.

VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 It seems as though someone will either impose on your good nature or attempt to borrow a valuable article — money is included.

LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 Listen, Libra! To begin with, you have been a little too optimistic. So, take a minor reversal that is heading your way — in good stead. Good fortune takes strange avenues, sometimes.

SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 You might not suspect it, but, your loyalty will be put to test in a very subtle way. Also, a member of the opposite sex will contact you through a third party.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 There's nothing to become upset about. See to it that you observe simple safety rules in your routine tasks. An emotional flare is, also, likely this week.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 According to your chart, someone who is a better friend than you think — will pull your chestnuts out of the fire.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 It seems as though you're inclined to fight too many side battles this week. Try not to dwell on trivial matters. Avoid academic arguments that cannot be resolved.

PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 Warning! Your entire mood of living can take a sudden turn. Take extreme care about a major decision that is hidden in the guise of being insignificant. What is more, think out what you say.

Being Tough

More often than not, someone tells a lie with the three words, "I don't care."

When a victory is lost, when a dream goes up in smoke, we turn our back and tell the world that it doesn't make any difference. For some reason, we want the world to think that we are "tough," that we can take it.

What we forget is that it is possible to be "tough" and honest at the same time. We can say, "Yes, I wanted to win. I wanted that dream. I didn't get it, but I shall try again."

To be tough is not to be indifferent. It is to be persistent. It is to carry on.

To be tough is to avoid the easy way, the quick gain at the expense of others.

To be tough is to adopt a per-

Parents Know the Drug Threat

The Child You Save
May Be Your Own

Today's Subject: Marijuana—The "Innocent" Drug

Marijuana is probably the best known drug to most parents because for years we have been hearing about it. Marijuana has long been in use in what we now term minority groups, but now it has spread across the land like cancer. Its manufacture and distribution is, of course, prohibited by law except for approved research purposes.

Marijuana is the dried flowering or fruiting top of the plant Cannabis Sativa, L., commonly called Indian Hemp. Usually it looks like fine, green tobacco. It is smoked in pipes or cigarette form. Hashish, also a preparation from Cannabis, is taken orally in many forms, and infrequently it is made into candy, sniffed in powder form, mixed with honey for drinking or with butter to spread on bread. The primary effect is a feeling of great perceptiveness and pleasure and an exaggerated sense of ability, resulting from even small doses. Erratic behavior, loss of memory, distortion of time and spatial perceptions, and hilarity without apparent cause occur. There is a marked unpredictability of effect.

Of course, these reactions are usual in the user of alcohol, too, but with the drug user there is no alcoholic breath odor. Breath odor though is most always unpleasant.

Because of the visions and exhilaration which result from the use of Marijuana, abusers may lose all restraint and act in a manner dangerous to themselves and others. User is usually accident prone because of his time and space sense upheaval. Dependence leads to anti-social behavior and could be the forerunner to use of other, far more deadly drugs.

Street terms (names) for Marijuana are: joints, sticks, reefer, weed, grass, pot, muggles, mooters, Indian hay, locoweed, Mu, giggle-smoke, Griffio, Mohasky and Mary Jane.

By the millions, and rightfully so, parents are more and more concerned or even panicked about drug use. Most disturbing is that drugs, especially Marijuana, are becoming popular even among junior high and high school students. One 37-year-old father said in a recent interview, "My seven-year-old daughter can spell Marijuana. I never heard of it until I was in college."

On and near by high school and college grounds, raids and arrests for possession of Marijuana and other drugs are increasing across the country. Simple possession of Marijuana is a felony — rightly or wrongly — that can be punished by jail terms of 2 to 10 years or more. Drug use is, without doubt, becoming a way of life for some young people — and, for an untold but large, if not larger number of adults also. And so, think about these things, my friends — we are all in this together. As adults, it is up to us to head this thing off in our community. To do this we must all know more about drugs, their use and misuse. Will you be with me next week? I hope so. What we are studying is for a very worthwhile cause!

Drug lectures and clinics show you drugs, tapes of interviews with drug users are offered and an occasional film giving lectures and interviews are shown, but here is a movie that accurately and vividly portrays the life of two young drug addicts on New York's West side. Box Office magazine says, "The films deliberate flatness may wear some audiences out, but it should keep them from ever wanting to take drugs." This film should be required viewing for the young. No frills. Nothing held back. "Panic In Needle Park" at the Strand Theatre in Roscommon.

Women of the Moose

The November 1 meeting was called to order by senior regent, Maggie Miller, with 14 members present. It was Library Chapter night program with one enrollment, Louise Mikulick. Welcome to our chapter.

Following our meeting we adjourned to the basement for a light lunch and had a few games.

We would like to see a few more members be go-getters. Help enlarge our chapter. It is a real pleasure to be a member. We find it a lot of pleasure working together, not only with the women but to give a helping hand to the men of the lodge.

Jack Pine's Stump

Halloween has come and gone and as I write this, I have no idea what might have happened in Grayling. Whatever happened to Halloween? Who took the fairy night of spooks and goblins away from the little kids and gave it to the sick and deranged? What sort of society do we live in when there are those who will purposely give little children, who believe in adults, candy and apples laced with needles and rat poison? Who has taken away the marvel that we adults have for the ingenious costumes of the kids and replaced it with a fear of what will happen to an unlocked car or even a locked one? Who has made once openly generous people turn off their lights this night because they are afraid to open the doors to anyone? And what sort of strange people will shoot out street lights and molest little children on such a night — or any night? Maybe we've lost our sense of values, or maybe we've just misplaced them somewhere along the line. It is sad indeed that Halloween has become a time of fear instead of a time of fun.

One of the new businesses opened in Grayling recently is the new Goodale's Bakery on Norway next to the Sears Store. It's been a long time since you could get real good baked goods in this area, and I, for one, appreciate it. I wondered why the owner would leave his Sears store to open a bakery. Now I know. He feels that this community needs good, fresh, high-quality baked goods and he's willing to take the chance to provide them. Good luck, Loren.

"Swelled Heads are Nature's Way of Filling Vacuums" reads a sign I saw recently. Which reminds me of a comment supposed to have been made by one of the Department of Natural Resources Commissioners at the recent water use hearing in Cadillac. He wanted everyone to be assured the Commissioners had completely open minds about the proposed regulations, to which one rather cynical person muttered, "Sure, they got open minds. In one ear and out the other." That really isn't true... of all of them. A few weeks ago someone remarked, when I was writing about hummingbirds, that hummingbirds migrate — to Lansing where they nest in the empty heads of certain you-know-whos. That isn't completely true either. The stronger ones fly clear to Central America.

The Canoe Association printed up a bunch of copies of the proposed DNR regulations and distributed them to the State Senators and Representatives. Almost none of them had seen them before, and most were, to say the least, horrified. So things may not look so bad for the recreational canoeist after all, and may look a little less bright for that small segment of trout fishermen who are promulgating these ridiculous and unfair propositions. I also agree with those who say that a Commissioner who has property on the AuSable ought to be in all fairness disqualified himself from the voting on the issue. Hillary Snell is such a man. He resigned as the President of the Michigan Council of Trout Unlimited when he took the appointment as a Commissioner. But he's their man, and a recent TU publication announced pleasure at his appointment. There are also other property owners along the AuSable who are dead set against these proposals, but they haven't got a seat on the Commission. Impartiality is necessary to honesty and the democratic process. I can't believe that Mr. Snell is impartial. He should disqualify himself — now.

On November 10th the B and Boosters are having a concert at the school gym. Bands from all the grades will participate, to show the progress which is made from grade to grade. Now this concert is a bit different from some of the previous ones. It is mainly going to be used to raise money to buy some of the larger instruments needed. Smaller instruments are bought by the parents, generally. But who can afford a sousaphone or would want one in the house? Anyway, as an added incentive to buy a ticket, some lucky person will be the winner of a brand new Ski-Whiz 22 hp snowmobile. Which ain't at all bad. And you don't even have to be present to win. The machine is on display at the bank. If there is any money left over, it will be used to support the scholarship program for the Interlochen Music Camp — to which someone from the school goes each year. Anyway, tickets can be bought many places, but I do know about Fuelgas and the Yardstick as two places, or at the door on Wednesday the tenth, next week. I got mine. How about you?

FRESHMEN DEFEAT TRAVERSE CITY

The final freshmen game of the year was played last week and proved to be a thriller until the final second. The young Vikings held a 12-0 halftime lead on a pass from Kirsch to Budd and on a screen pass to Bonamie. In the second half Traverse City scored 2 quick TD's and were successful on 1 conversion for a 14-12 lead. It was not until a 14-12 lead. It was not until the game that the freshmen recaptured the lead on a TC punt attempt, fumble that was recovered by Budd, who ramblé 15 yards for a Viking TD. Traverse City made a strong attempt to score but the Grayling defense led by Hall, Hinkle, Sidebottom, Canfield, Lovely, Bonamie and Gidner held them in line.

Offensively, Hansen and Kirsch who started his first game at QB, did a fine job finding Harris open on most of their passes. Although only 11 players can play at one time, it is team morale and effort that win ball games.

The following players completed the season and deserve much praise and credit: Harris, La-Chappelle, Kirsch, Hall, Smock, Hansen, Bonamie, Canfield, Lovely, Tobin, Duly, King, Weaver, D. Johnston, Huber, T. Johnson, Moers, Hinkle, McNamara, Gidner, Golinick, Sidebottom, Wilcox, Sloan, Managers, Ken Kirsch and Dan Bonamie.

Walter G. Nakkula Succumbs November 1

Walter G. Nakkula of Gladwin passed away on November 1st after a two year illness. Mr. Nakkula was the District liaison for Congressman Elford A. Cederberg of Michigan's Tenth Congressional District.

Mr. Nakkula was born in the Upper Peninsula and moved to Detroit in 1923 at the age of 16. In 1942 he moved to Gladwin where he resided until his death.

Prior to his election to the Michigan State House of Representatives in 1952, Mr. Nakkula worked as a home builder and served as chairman of the Gladwin County Board of Supervisors. Following redistricting in 1964, he joined the staff of Congressman Cederberg as a district liaison. He travelled the nineteen counties of the Tenth District, conveying to the Congressman the problems of the people with whom he met.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday, Nov. 4, at 11 a.m. at St. Joseph Church, West Branch, with burial in St. Joseph Cemetery. Honorary pallbearers are Governor William Milliken, Senator Robert Griffin, Congressman Cederberg and former Governor George Romney.

JV's End Season With 6th Win

Coach Chuck Mires
Asst. Lacey Stephan

The Grayling JV football team defeated the Onaway JV's, 19-6 last Tuesday to wrap up a rough schedule successfully. The win brought the JV's record to 6-1 and marked the 13th win in 14 games over two seasons for many of the JV's.

Following a 1st quarter blocked punt by Chris Weaver, Grayling moved into score with fullback Kevin Zimmerman going over from the 3 yard line. Also, in 1st quarter action Onaway stopped Grayling deep in Grayling territory but on 4th down Dan McClain boomed a high 55 yard punt which again gave the JV's breathing room. Onaway and Grayling traded 2nd quarter scores with the young Vikings scoring on a perfect Chris Dunkley to Jim Bobenmoyer 20 yard pass play. Halftime found the score 12-6.

The score remained that way until the 4th quarter when Jim Bobenmoyer, running from the tailback position, crashed over from the 6 yard line for the final score of the game.

Defensively the Viking's were led by Chris Dunkley, Walt Koziicki, Dan McClain and Dee Mead.

The loss was only the second of the season for the Onaway JV's bringing their record to 4-2. Following completion of Grayling's fine JV season, several of the players were moved up to the varsity squad.

Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Mich. 49738

In answer to a letter enclosed and written by the Kiwanis Club of Grayling, and published in the October 28th edition of the Crawford County Avalanche regarding the complacency of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce with regard to the Department of Natural Resources Proposed Rules & Regulations on the AuSable River, these are the true facts.

1. As early as August of 1970 we were aware of the possible conflict when Mr. Shapton and Mr. Yoder of the DNR met for two hours in the Chamber office regarding the tentative Rules & Regulations.

2. Chamber representatives sat in on the series of meetings of the subcommittee for the Water Use Committee of the AuSable Watershed Study Council. This during the Fall and Winter of 1970 and 1971. The representatives were Albert Westervelt, Kenneth Carlisle, and Earl Longworth.

3. Chamber representatives sat in on the monthly meetings of the AuSable Watershed Study Council when the Proposed Rules & Regulations have been discussed in great depth. Representatives of the Watershed Study Council were Mr. Westervelt, Mr. Carlisle and Mr. Longworth.

4. Chamber representation is currently being held on the Policy Committee of the AuSable Task Force & Policy Committee, coordinated by the Northeast Michigan Regional Planning & Development Commission. Representatives are Mr. Westervelt and Mr. Longworth.

5. Last spring the Chamber was invited to attend a planning session on the Proposed Rules & Regulations and possible funding by the Upper Great Lakes Commission for an in depth study of the AuSable by the Northeast Michigan Regional Planning & Development Commission. Representative was Mr. Longworth.

6. This summer and fall we met with Mr. Yoder of the DNR. Representatives were Bernard Fowler, Gale Humes, Mr. Westervelt, and Mr. Longworth.

7. This fall we met with Carl Johnson in Cadillac, a DNR Commissioner. Representatives were Mr. Westervelt, Cal Gates, and Mr. Longworth.

8. This fall we met with Rep. Robert Young, a member of the House of Representatives Committee on Natural Resources. Representatives were Mr. Westervelt and Mr. Longworth.

9. Numerous letters, telephone calls, and personal contacts were made to Rep. Cramton, Rep. Young, and Senator Toeppe, and Senator Hart with regard to the Proposed Rules & Regulations of the River.

10. Thirty (30) telegrams were sent this fall by the Chamber to members of the Natural Resources Committees of the House and Senate concerning the proposed rules and regulations on the River.

11. Personal contacts were made to Harry Whiteley at Rogers City, a member of the DNR Commission.

12. Several contacts and telephone calls were made to James Hall, Executive Vice President of East Michigan Tourist Association. Out of this came a very stiff resolution which was passed at the EMTA Annual Meeting. This condemned the action of the DNR. "Rigid regulation of canoeing on rivers for the benefit of fishermen is an act favoring a specific outdoor recreation activity and threatens a legitimate economic activity."

13. On September 13th the Chamber sent to the DNR their suggestions for revising the Proposed Rules & Regulations which would be more equitable to all River Users.

14. I further refer you to the following publications of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. NORWAY — May, 1971, page 1 — "Canoeing and Our Area" — This spring there has been several detrimental articles in downstate papers concerning canoeing on the AuSable River — Main Stream and South Branch: It would seem that the "Gentlemen's Agreement" between the 17 members of the subcommittee, Water Use of the AuSable Watershed Study Council, concerning news releases is not being honored. The Study Council, the AuSable Property Owners Association, the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, and the Michigan Canoe Livery Association has kept their "bargain", but a fish organization — Trout Unlimited — has not.

It seems peculiar to us why this organization feels that it is their sacred duty to keep informing the public about the detrimental effect of canoeing as a recreational activity on the Main Stream and South Branch of the AuSable River. One would be led to believe that the fish organization really believes that the two rivers mentioned belong only to them, and not to the people of the State of Michigan.

2. The time may come in the future when this question may have to be resolved, and it will have to be the concern of every business in Crawford County to make a commitment on whether our river system belongs to everyone or the fish organization. The article of "Jack Pine" in the May 6th edition of "The Crawford County Avalanche", also Bill Bosserman's article in the May 13th edition, pretty well sums up the attitude of the Chamber.

NORWAY — August - September, 1971, page 1 — "Community vs. DNR." — There have been reams written on the controversy between canoeing, fishermen, and property owners. Now the Department of Natural Resources has entered into the fray with both feet and to all intent and purpose are out to get the canoe livers. It is our guess that somewhere between 20% and 30% of our summer economy is tied in directly with the canoe livers. The people that come into our community to canoe, fill up at our gas stations, eat in our restaurants, and stay in our motels, and buy in our stores. If there is any single thing that should unite our community, it is this one thing. We are fighting this action by the DNR every way that we can, and hope that it will be resolved on an amiable basis, fair to all concerned.

NORWAY — October - November, 1971, page 2 — "Canoe Hearing October 28th" — Make plans to attend the Hearing by the Department of Natural Resources on the Proposed Rules & Regulations on River Use, to be held at Cadillac at 7:30 p.m. in the Naval Armory. This is critical to the economy of our area. This can mean plus or minus business for gas stations, motels, restaurants, and practically any business in our area. Support your business by being in attendance.

If the hours and hours of time extended and miles and miles of travel involved in pursuing the above, plus the weekends of one's personal time and expense, are considered "merely lip service", then the Chamber Board and its Executive Manager feels that a more concerned effort could not have been made in this effort by any group or organization.

However, it would seem that it is of great detriment for an organization to spend their effort in publicly condemning the efforts of the Chamber when our common end goal is the same. Rather, it would seem that an united effort of all interested and concerned parties would be the greatest asset any community could have. We actively encourage and solicit the aid of the Kiwanis, and any other interested organization, in joining us in our fight to reach an equitable solution in this matter.

Dear Whitey:
I regret that last week's letter was written with some haste, and no small amount of anger. You and Mr. Papendick know that I came and attempted to change parts of the letter in order to clarify certain statements which I made, but because the letter was already type-set, it was not possible to do so.

Please allow me at this time to set the record straight. Despite the four letter abuse one woman saw fit to heap upon the letter, it was not done as a publicity stunt. But was in fact an attempt to suggest to the citizens of Crawford County several important issues, only one of which is alcohol. Let me restate the other two.

As property owners on the Main Stream of the AuSable, my wife and I are deeply disturbed by the action of Grayling Township Officials in changing the zoning of the NE corner of Ole Dam Road and M-72 because the Zoning Board willfully overrode a specific restriction written into all the property in that area: "This land shall be used for dwelling purposes only and no part thereof shall be used for commercial purposes of any kind."

This kind of restriction cannot be set aside by a zoning board without legal action. We have now secured an attorney to file suit in Circuit Court against the Township because they knowingly threw out this restriction — we think illegally. I say knowingly because Mr. Melvin Nielson informed them of the restriction in a letter dated April 27th, 1970.

If the ruling of the Zoning Board is allowed to stand it would have serious consequences for every property owner in Grayling Township. It would mean that all restrictions in our Deeds and Titles would be valueless words. Words which could be overthrown willfully, and carelessly overturned at any time. It means that your neighbor could do anything to your land with no recourse on your part, simply by getting Township approval. Do ANY of us feel the Zoning Board ought to have this uncontrolled power?

My second objection is this: Zoning Board hearings, as now conducted in this Township, seem to be a waste of time. At our Grayling Board meeting last Friday night, our Supervisor stated that he believed that he could not abide by the opinions of those who attend hearings. That by their nature, these people are prejudiced and represent only themselves. That he goes out into the community and asks opinions of those he speaks to.

If this be true, why hold public hearings? It continually amazes me that our public officials at all levels of government feel that they are omniscient. That they know better than we do what is good and helpful for us all. Public hearings are held in order to get the public's opinion! If both sides do not appear — maybe it is not because a small minority are more interested and vocal — but because they represent the majority who do care, and there is no minority at all.

There are now almost two dozen of us actively campaigning legally through a lawyer, and also through the referendum petition route. We hope this letter will help you understand two issues that affect us all which are at stake in our quarrel with the Township Board. We hope you will both understand and join us. Thank you.

Respectfully yours,
Paul C. Frederick, Pastor
Michelson Memorial Church
